Accessing our website

Our website is provided free of charge and is intended for people living in the United Kingdom.

We may update, change, suspend, restrict, or withdraw any part of the website from time to time for business or operational reasons.

While we aim to keep the website available at all times, we cannot guarantee uninterrupted access.

The information on this website is provided for general guidance only and should not be relied upon as financial, legal, or professional advice.

Using our website responsibly

To help keep our website safe and secure, you must not:

- Introduce viruses, malware, or other harmful material.
- Attempt to gain unauthorised access to our website, systems, servers, or databases.
- Interfere with the operation or security of the website.
- Carry out denial-of-service (DoS) or distributed denial-of-service (DDoS) attacks.

Any such activity may be a criminal offence under the Computer Misuse Act 1990. If this happens, we may report it to the relevant authorities and work with them as required. Your right to use our website may also be withdrawn immediately.

Although we take reasonable steps to protect our website, we cannot guarantee that it will always be secure or free from bugs, viruses, or other harmful content. You are responsible for ensuring that your devices and software are adequately protected.
